

palgrave▶pivot

THE ECONOMIC RECONCILIATION PROCESS

Middle Eastern Populations in Conflict

Ilan Bijaoui

The Economic Reconciliation Process uses the experiences of the European Union and North American countries in preventing conflicts by economic solutions, to evaluate the feasibility and potential efficiency of hybrid cross border economic models of development in the Middle East. By evaluating the potential impact of the proposed economic cooperation on political solutions to conflict, Bijaoui analyzes the potential implementation of those models in other regions in conflict.

Bijaoui's research develops a hybrid cross-border model based on the free economic zone, the industrial district, and the cluster to generate a common economic interest between countries or populations in declared or potential conflict in the Middle East.

About the Author

Ilan Bijaoui is Lecturer of Management at Bar-Ilan University, Israel, and a consultant for the Israeli Ministries of Agriculture and Foreign Affairs.